

Tiny Art Show and Competition

Come view and vote on your favorite artworks at our third annual Tiny Art Show.

Throughout the month of March, local artists' tiny canvases will be displayed in the library lobby. Each artwork is three inches by three inches in size, with no limit to the artists' materials or imagination.

Vote for your favorites from the different age categories. Artists range in age from toddlers and preschoolers through teens and adults. The variety and quality of the art may surprise you!

Last day to vote is March 26.

“Terrific Trees” with Rick Reynolds

Come celebrate trees and springtime! We'll start by observing magnified artifacts from all stages of tree life cycles. Then we'll discover different types of trees, the ways wildlife use them as habitat, and how trees help us. Be ready to create some beautiful tree art, too! Recommended for families

Did you know?

We have an online gardening periodical collection

Do you have a green thumb? If so, you'll really "dig" our online gardening and horticulture periodical collection.

Gale OneFile: Gardening and Horticulture offers over 200 journals focused on key issues in gardening and other areas of horticulture.

Visit refweb.lincc.org and then search for "gardening" to access over three million articles on the practical aspects as well as the scientific theory of horticulture studies.
